Telephone encounter: toxicity assessment

Patient ID: SYN-005

Document date: 2026-07-28

Nursing telephone note

Telephone follow-up before trial screening. Ms. Lee reports persistent numbness and tingling in both hands and feet since oxaliplatin; she has trouble buttoning clothing and uses a handrail on stairs. Assessed as oxaliplatin-induced peripheral sensory neuropathy grade 2, limiting instrumental activities of daily living. Hair thinning persists, alopecia grade 2. She reports no diarrhea, mouth sores or fatigue limiting activity. All other treatment-related toxicities are grade 0 to 1.
